Time to use our gifts to better our community

RICK HANSON

CALGARY POLICE CHIEF

On July 1 this year, I had the good fortune to attend the Canada Day event at Prairie Winds Park, hosted by the Ahmadiyya Muslim Community.

In my opinion, this is one of the premier Canada Day events hosted in this city.

It's a community festival replete with EMS equipment, fire trucks, firefighters and police officers with police equipment all in attendance. There are speeches from prominent politicians and games for the kids. The temple provides food for everyone in the community who wants to attend.

It is one of those community events which represents the best of Calgary and is replicated all over the city on this special day. It is a time when we pause to celebrate Canada as the amazing country it is, and Calgary as an incredible city. A city that can retain such a strong sense of community, even as it continues to grow to over a million people.

'A great country'; Citizenship ceremony a chance to show pride

Calgary Herald: Jul 2, 2009. pg. B.1, Kelly cryderman

"... Thousands of Calgarians also turned out to the annual Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at Canada Day celebrations at Prairie Winds Park in northeast Calgary. The festivities opened with a presentation from the Qur'an, singing of O Canada, and praise of the nation's rich history. "We're proud of our multicultural heritage in Canada," said Calgary MP and federal Environment Minister Jim Prentice. "We have so much to be thankful for, so much to be proud of," he said at the event, which brought several dignitaries from the Muslim community and all three levels of government..."
